WINNIPEG, Nov. 15.—(CP)—Officials of the International Typographical Union (ATU) announced today that 27 pressmen of the Winnipeg Free Press and Winnipeg Tribune left work at noon, joining the 120 composing room employees and approximately 13 stereotypes in the dispute over a new contract in dispute between the publishers of the two papers and the union.

Spokesmen for the printers declined to comment on the latest developments in the controversy but said they are preparing to go ahead with plans for publishing the combined edition of the two papers today.

No Disallowance Sack Legislation

By CHESTER BLOOM
Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau
OTTAWA, Nov. 15.—It was learned here today on high authority that the government committee which heard arguments by the Dominion Mortgage and Loan Association asking disallowance of Saskatchewan legislation has decided against disallowance and will report that finding to the full cabinet.

A similar adverse report against disallowance of Saskatchewan mutual taxation legislation also is anticipated.

The Saskatchewan legislature provided that in times of crop failure where revenue from farm lands was less than $8 per acre, the interest in that year should be abolished and the principal deferred to a following year.

Reasons are said to be that the Dominion government holds that the provincial legislation does not interfere with the rights of the crown.

Coldwell Urges Use 'Big Dipper' of Port of Flag

Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau
OTTAWA, Nov. 15.—M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, said this morning that he favors a distinctive Canadian flag in gold on a white or blue field.

Mr. Coldwell said he considered the stars of the big dipper peculiarly the symbol of Canada's northern Dominion stretching to the north pole. A white or blue field would make the stars more distinctive and legible at a distance than the present red field.

British reports from the city said the Indonesians, estimated at 15,000 to 18,000 strong, appeared to be better organized than at the beginning of the battle.

THE SITUATION in Batavia, meanwhile, was easing considerably as a result of the rigid curfew imposed by the British. Most of the looting which had been running riot through the city after nightfall appeared to have been driven into hiding by the curfew.

A recent census indicates that 10 per cent of Europe's livestock was killed off during the concluding months of the war.

Witness, who had served with the 20th Regiment, told Prosecutor W. D. Gow, he and others believed Kratz referred to the 20th Foreign Legionnaires, "because we were in very good standing in the camp."

SIX OR SEVEN OR-Legionnaires were running the camp.

He had once gone to a birthday celebration with the camp leader, but had taken no part in other meetings.

Another witness, member of the 30th Regiment and captured before Tobruk, said he saw "this criminal Kratz" at the place of Plezsek's death.

Transport Control For North Shipping

OTTAWA, Nov. 15.—(CP)—The Commons today was asked by Transport Minister Chervin to give second reading to a bill that would give the board of transport commissioners jurisdiction over water carriers of 10 tons or more operating in the Mackenzie River area of the Northwest Territories.

Mr. Chervin said the bill, on which debate will be continued Thursday, would give the transport commissioners authority to fix the freight rates charged by the carriers for the transportation of fuel, bunker oil, food and other products.

HE SAID THAT the Northern Transportation Company, owned by Eldorado Mines, had been taken over by the government last year. It was found that at the existing freight rates the company could not be operated at a profit. It was decided by the government to increase the rates in a point where the company could operate without a carrier.

The companies using the carriers complained about the increases and it was decided to put the matter before a tribunal.

Killers of Dachau Placed on Trial

By M. S. HANDLER
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
DACHAU, Nov. 15.—(RUP)—Forty-two Germans went on trial before a U.S. military government court today on charges of murdering thousands of persons at the notorious Dachau concentration camp by torture, starvation and sadistic experiments.

The Dachau atrocity trial opened with a legal wrangle, which defence counsel challenged the court's jurisdiction and the way in which the charges were drawn up.

Brig. Gen. John M. Lemtke head of the eight-man tribunal, ruled after consulting his colleagues that the court's jurisdiction was legal. Recess was called to weigh a motion for quashing of the charges on grounds that they were improperly drafted.

The Nazi defendants were accused of wholesale execution, mistreatment, beatings, and fatal experiments involving Allied war prisoners and civilians at Dachau.

One of the leading defendants was Dr. Klaus Kru. Schilling, whose malaria experiments were alleged to have killed 1,100 to 1,500 persons.

In the hands of the transport commissioners, who fixed freight rates for carriers on the Great Lakes.

According to police records, this is the first serious wounding case by a knife since November 1941.

Three other recalcitrants were caught at session last night. They concerned the subject finances for educational purposes.

ONE OVERSEER had five annual conventions had gone on record with requests to the government to share 10 per cent of the educational costs, but that no action had as yet been taken.

DISCUSSION on the question of teachers' salaries turned into something of a parliamentary debate when R. J. Jorgensen, M.L.A., pleaded for fairness in published comparisons of government revenue.

Another speaker, "We don't want to bring our children up on liquor."

DR. W. H. SWIFT, provincial superintendent of schools, addressed the meeting on the subject of school divisions. In a lengthy report based on the experience of their effectiveness since introduction, he said last year there were 100 divisions and villages which had entered into school divisions by agreement.

Consolidation of administration through well organized school divisions had effected an improvement in the districts where they were established, he said.

AS ONE of several similar examples, Mr. Swift pointed to the case of Lac La Poudre, which one year ago had one school division when it turned into a school division. Today, there were eight.

THE document was formally labeled as "a declaration" and outlined the main points of a recommendation under UNO, the president and the two vice-presidents agreed that the work of the commission should proceed in stages with the successful completion of each stage a factor in preparing the necessary consideration of the world before the next stage is undertaken.

Thompson entered the dock with a rectangular patch above his right eye, which appeared swollen and discolored. There was no indication given as to whether he would enter a plea of guilty or not.

THE BLOOD-STAINED weapon was shown in its police case to the jury following his arrest. It said to have admitted to the knife, and was quoted by police to have stated: "I take too damn much of a beating all day down there."

AT THE TIME police entered the room, Thompson was grasping Thompson's hands. As the police pulled Thompson's right hand, the accused is alleged to have tried to stab the police with a knife.

Police immediately, while the two wounded persons were taken to the hospital, handcuffed Thompson. He was then transferred to the University hospital.

According to police reports, an argument started when Mrs. Lund and Thompson bumped each other in front of the Arrow case. Doreen Harris, described by police as a "wild girl," forced Thompson to leave.

Mr. Lund's face, police charge, and Mrs. Lund's face, were injured. Mrs. Lund, opened it and slashed Mrs. Lund's face, police charge, and Mrs. Lund's face, were injured.

Thursday morning police said the accused showed no sign of nervousness. He rose early in the cell block, shaved and enjoyed a full breakfast.

COPIES of a 253-PAGE pamphlet containing this and other intercepted Japanese diplomatic messages were released as the congressional committee began public hearings. The pamphlet covered messages between the Japanese government and its diplomats in Washington and throughout the world from July 1, 1941, to Dec. 8, 1941.

There were voluminous reports on diplomatic negotiations between Tokyo and Washington. These led almost up to the moment when Japan moved into Manchuria, and the Red Army has gotten out. Soviet troops, it was learned, already have completed their withdrawal from Southern Manchuria and by Nov. 10 had evacuated the entire southern area. Trustees Seek Further Powers In Resolutions

A resolution recommending abolition of the continuous contract and the board of reference, and extension of school boards' power to terminate employment of a teacher, brought brisk discussion among school trustees at the Wednesday afternoon session of their three-day annual convention in progress at the Macdonald hotel.

The resolution was declared carried after lively opposition of two amendments had been defeated. The resolution noted that the continuous contract was introduced prior to the establishment of school divisions within the province; that the school board was denied the right to terminate a contract excepting under extraordinary conditions.

It noted that a teacher had the right to terminate contract annually, and complained that this was not in the best interests of education since the board was not allowed to engage a better teacher or a better qualified one. This, stated the preamble of the resolution, was "a complete negation of educational progress."

WHEN IN THE OPINION of a school district a teacher's ability is not regarded in the light of his teacher's effectiveness diminished, but under the terms of the contract nothing could be done about it.

An amendment to the constitution asking for one representative each from Edmonton and Calgary to be placed on the executive of the Alberta School Trustees' Association was carried.

A resolution seeking boosting by one year the age limit of the Board of Attendance Act, which at present is compulsory to children of 15, was passed after a hot debate.

IN MANY DISTRICTS wartime conditions had brought about a reduction in the minimum 200 days for a school district to obtain full benefits under provincial grants, and a resolution requesting that these grants be paid on a basis of 200 days with no deductions made for days on which schools were closed through regulations made by the department of education, received the approval of the meeting and was carried.

Several other resolutions were tabled for a later session. The greatest single need of Canada's schools is the provision of able, well-trained and wholesome teachers," said Dr. S. B. Laycock, professor of educational psychology, college of education, University of Saskatchewan, who as guest speaker, addressed the meeting on "What Next in Education?"

UNLESS WAITS AND MEANS were found to fill this urgent need, much of the money put into school buildings and much of the energy put into devising new curricula and new administrative setups will be largely wasted, said Dr. Laycock.

The shortage of teachers and particularly the shortage of the right kind of teachers is nothing short of a national calamity, said Dr. Laycock. It also threatened some very real dangers. Organized "pressure groups" forced with a missionary zeal for certain social or religious theories and their young people into teaching as a means of directing and controlling the youth of our land. These people may be willing to put up with the disadvantages of teaching because they have an axe to grind, said the professor.

He stated the present problem was not that of getting enough teachers to keep schools open but of getting the most able and wholesome young people into the profession.

WHILE THE QUESTION of salary was the right place to start in effecting a betterment of the teaching situation there was also the opportunity now to place teaching on an economic and social basis that would attract the type of person who would give service with the high interest necessary in educating youth, and following, a series of resolutions.

Without reflecting any discredit upon those already carrying the work of teaching, Dr. Laycock said cheap labor, like cheap goods, is usually very expensive in the long run. It isn't that we can't afford to pay enough to get good teachers; it is that we cannot afford not to do so, he said.

Teaching should not be confined to the "filling station" method of imparting the contents of a textbook into the head of a youngster. The job of the teacher was becoming more and more that of a social engineer in which both pupil and teacher worked co-operatively and harmoniously.

"DISCIPLINE IS NOT a job for a person with a strong arm and a nasty disposition," stated Dr. Laycock, after describing the differences of personality and approach he had noted during a fact finding tour of schools throughout Canada.

As national president of the Canadian Home and School Association, he advocated a close relationship of teachers with their pupils and a realization that the true education of the child included development of its personality along with healthy lines both physical and mental.

World Producing Sufficient Goods For All Mankind

NEW YORK, Nov. 15. (AP)—President Truman said last night that for the first time in history "it is technically possible to produce enough material goods so that all men everywhere may be adequately fed, decently housed, and comfortably clothed."

The president, in a letter transmitted to the concluding session of the 32nd National Foreign convention, added:

"The question is whether our arrangements for exchange and distribution will be such that these enormous productive powers are enabled to operate freely for the benefit of everyone."

had been involved since. They point to the advance made in our anti-aircraft defenses and to the improved types of fighter aircraft delivered to the Royal Air Force in the 12 months following Munich.

WHAT THEY OVERLOOK is that what everything is relative to. No country is ever completely ready for war. What matters is to be more ready than your enemy.

Throughout the years, however, the French Army has been a declining asset. Any up to the mark, however, the French Army could have beaten the German Army. We should also have had the advantage of some 30 well-equipped Czech divisions and, while it cannot be proved with complete certainty, the strong probability is that Russia would have marched on Wehrmacht Germany. The war would have been over in a week.

Instead there was the famous breathing space, of which someone once unkindly remarked that it was not of much use to a man who like Chamberlain, suffered from asthma. When war came in September, 1939, the German Army had more than doubled. Instead of mobilizing 100 divisions, the Germans mobilized 180. Fifty-six were used for the assault on Poland, while 22, instead of 5, stood on guard in the West leaving 15 in reserve in Central and Southern Germany. The Wehrmacht had also made a similar expansion. The French Army had remained virtually stationary in equipment, and the shock of Munich had caused a serious deterioration in morale.

WHEN THE WAR came, England which at Munich had no armed divisions, had one. This was created by the paper transaction of re-arming the First Mobile Division, the First Armored Division and equipping it with some 60 or 70 completely obsolete tanks, mounting nothing bigger than a 36-caliber machine gun. We could just 3 divisions in the field, compared with the 15 divisions of the Wehrmacht. The Russians had made their deal with Hitler, the Czech Army was disbanded and the Slovak works were making armor plate for the German panzer divisions which were soon to overrun Europe, Africa and Russia.

No one who has studied the facts and figures can doubt that apart altogether from its moral implications, Munich was the greatest military blunder ever made by any French and British government.

Bodies of Seven Strangled Fliers Found in Nippon

YOKOHAMA, Nov. 15. (AP)—The bodies of seven American fliers, six of whom apparently were strangled by the Japanese, have been recovered from hidden graves, the 8th Army announced today.

Five of the seven bodies were found with ropes or wires tied around their necks in the graveyard of a Buddhist temple. Two more were recovered in unmarked graves along a forest road near the Tokyo canal.

The 8th Army's announcement followed by less than a week the discovery of the remains of 14 airmen who were executed and buried by the Japanese after parachuting over Osaka.

m-m-m-Libby's!

FRESH-FROM-THE-GARDEN--NOW AT YOUR GROCER'S!

LIBBY'S garden-fresh NEW PACK of Tomato Juice is in! Now you can enjoy the matchless fresh tomato flavour which has made Libby's Canada's favourite health drink.

Only the choicest tomatoes are used in this superbly delicious juice. For 33 years Libby's experts have selected the prize tomatoes from each successive crop and extracted their seed for next year. The result has been progressively finer tomatoes—thin-skinned beauties, uniformly smooth and fine-textured, bursting with juice and flavour.

These matchless tomatoes are picked at the peak of perfection, when they're plump, juiciest and roiest. Still glistening with morning dew, they're rushed to Libby's kitchens where they're "Gentle Pressed" and packed within a few hours. The process of "Gentle Pressing" is patented, exclusive with Libby's. It extracts only the sweetest juice with all the garden-fresh flavour and vitamins of the luscious, ripe tomatoes. That's why Libby's "Gentle Press" Tomato Juice is first choice—more sought after than any other tomato juice in Canada.

Serve Libby's often—as a pick-up at breakfast, a cocktail at lunch, an appetizer at dinner. Keep it in the refrigerator and let the children help themselves. Libby's Tomato Juice is good for them, an excellent source of vitamins A and C, and rich in shaluable minerals.

Safe in Australia

MRS. BRANDT

BRIG. ERNST BRANDT

Known in Provost, Church Workers Freed From Japs

PROVOST.—Selected by the merciless Japanese army and subjected to four years of privation and abuse, two Salvation Army workers, well-known in this district, have been reported safe in Australia, according to word received this week.

They are Brig. Ernest Brandt and Mrs. Brandt, who have visited Provost, Bervyn and Edmonton during 28 years of service to the church. Mrs. Brandt is a sister of Roy Brandt.

Now, 1027 83 avenue, Edmonton, they are under treatment in a hospital "down under". Brig. Brandt and his wife were living in Menado, in the North Celebes Islands at the time they were captured during the invasion by the Japanese through Dutch East Indies. Held for four years in prison camps, they were released several weeks ago by the Allies.

A son, Charles Brandt, is serving with the Canadian Navy at Halifax.

More Hunters For Fort Assiniboine

FORT ASSINIBOINE.—Charles Dean, and Glenn Bennett, both of Edmonton, along with H. L. Bennett of Fort Assiniboine left Saturday for the Mud Creek district for a moose hunt. They are joining a party recently arrived from Washington, U.S.A.

A number of men of work sponsored by the Topland Ladies' Club and followed by a dance last week was wellattended by residents of the district. Proceeds will be used for sending parcels overseas.

Cpl. D. Strand arrived this week from his station at Calgary. He has been granted a six months' leave of absence.

Veterans Honored At Legion Dinner

VERMILION.—A complimentary dinner was given returned members of the armed services by the Vermilion branch of the Canadian Legion this week. The gathering was marked by an attendance of 200 persons.

Man Injured

HOBBSMA.—William Burns is recovering from a brain injury received in a scuffle at his home during the week-end when an Indian allegedly broke into the Burns home after being ordered away from the district.

Red Deer Curlers Ready For Coming Competitions

RED DEER.—Ice-making has started at the rink and Red Deer curlers are looking forward to an early start at the game this season. New officers have been elected for the year and everything points to an active winter.

The following are the officers for 1945-46: honorary president, Doug Gray; president, Marshall; vice-president, George McLevin; second vice-president, Jim Haskins; secretary-treasurer, J. C. Knight; re-elected, executive, Jim McInnis; Ed. Hovring; Fred Smith, membership committee; Frank Nandah; George McLevin and Bert Woodrow, ice committee; Hugh Clarke; trustee to 1948, Norman Burnett.

Most of the Central Alberta clubs have divided the province into four or five zones in the Mackle River competition with a play-off in each zone. Winners of these zone championships would then meet for the provincial play-downs, not necessarily at the same time as a hospital.

For the purpose of presenting these views to the curling committee, the Red Deer Club president Jack Taylor, Mr. Bowring and Mrs. Knight in a committee to draft a brief. Mr. Lewis will present it at a meeting of the curling committee in Calgary.

Club finances were reported in a satisfactory state by Alderman Knight, the secretary-treasurer. Doug Gray, retiring president, was meeting chairman.

Members of the club held their annual banquet at the Buffalo hotel in connection with the annual picnic. The picnic was held at the home of Mrs. J. West.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Meyers have returned from Calgary. H. King, E. Borchert, H. Paul, W. Schulz and A. Kandle and his wife were in British Columbia for the winter.

Repatriated Kin Back In Dominion

MILLET.—Mrs. Thomas Howes has received a letter from her sister-in-law, Mrs. Roger Howes, now in Canada after having been repatriated from a prisoner-of-war camp in China. In her letter, the former Jap prisoner told of receiving a pair of silk stockings from the United States during her time in captivity. She traded the stockings off for a quart of milk and a few other things.

THE MILLET War Workers, at their November meeting, held at the home of Mrs. J. West agreed to supplement the usual shipment to servicemen overseas with a special Christmas parcel to be sent at once.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Meyers have returned from Calgary. H. King, E. Borchert, H. Paul, W. Schulz and A. Kandle and his wife were in British Columbia for the winter.

Ashmont Veterans At Legion Dance

ASHMONT.—The annual Armistice dance was held last week by members of the Ashmont branch of the Canadian Legion, in the decorated community hall. In spite of cold weather, the attendance was good, a large percentage of veterans of both wars being on hand to enjoy themselves.

John Bell, formerly with the RCAF, has been named president of the Legion branch. Secretary-treasurer is Cedric Ashdown, whose father held the same post several years ago.

Greek Sailors End Food Strike

LONDON, Nov. 15.—(CP)—A hunger strike by several hundred Greek seamen in seven British ports ended yesterday. The men accepted a Greek government offer of a living allowance of seven shillings and sixpence (about $15) a day for unemployed seamen. The strikers started the strike 10 days ago to enforce a demand for such an unemployment allowance.

One Infantile Case Reported

A single case of infantile paralysis at this season of the year is of no significance, said Dr. M. R. How, deputy minister of health, Wednesday. He was commenting on arrival at the Royal Alexandra hospital, Edmonton, of a five-year-old boy, from the Weavik district, suffering from the malady.

"The only record in Canada of such a phenomenon," said the deputy minister, "occurred in this province about 19 years ago when seven or eight cases developed in the Peace River area, brought in from the south of Alberta by a 'carrier' not suffering from the disease himself."
